POLITICAL POT BOILS IN RENO

Interest Is Divided Between Coming National Campaign and Race Meeting

RENO, Nev., July 30. "All aboard on the race track! Going right out! One more in here and we start! Go down on the first race today! Going right out!" This is the cry with which the streets of Reno are filled this week, beginning about 1:30 every afternoon. Every sort of automobile seems engaged in the transportation traffic at "two bits a throw" from the Thursday ball to the latest Knight-landed twin seven. The races certainly are doing fine business. "Get away day" comes Saturday. Next week, the filing of candidates for nomination to political office.

Of course, after the races and after supper, visitors in town sit around hotels, telling one another how "I was going to get down on that horse in the third race, but such-and-such a fellow came along and talked me into playing flax for the place, when I ought to have known all the while I couldn't even show" and all the minutiae of poker which every body who attends race meetings has heard thousands of times. It seems mighty interesting game this time, as your friends who you didn't win. After the evening game of explanation, and perhaps a late picture show, few visitors seem to care for breakfast much before 11 o'clock, and after breakfast comes the serious business of getting programs for the day and figuring out dope for "the morning fillings." Nobody in Reno has time for politics this week. Next week, which will also be next month, the political pot will be set ablazing in earnest, according to the belief of leading republicans. They expect a general showing of candidates for all offices.

The redoubtable Colonel Mackay has returned from a little trip into the Fallon oil district, where he discovered to his regret the value of some oil stocks he owns. Incidentally, he distributed pictures of republican candidates Harding and Coolidge. When he walked into the Reno office last Monday, the "idiot" found a large package of photographic pictures of Harding, said to have been made from a photograph shown by the candidate's wife. They are not friendly-looking pictures, Mackay declared they look like Black Jack, and he refused to have anything to do with them.

Samuel S. Arentz, the republican candidate for congress, who was called home from Elko last Friday on a telegram from his wife, arrived in Reno the first part of the week, reporting everything in good order again at his ranch near Simpson. According to the Reno Gazette of Tuesday, "Arentz expresses confidence that he will win the republican nomination no matter who may be his opponent in the primary election." It is a fact that the pace is already set by the energetic engineer-rancher, and whoever enters the lists against him will have to "go some." Arentz is pleasing the people by talking straight business and pointing only to his accomplishments as recommendation. He has returned to his camp in the southeastern part of the state.

A Grant Miller is just acting natural out at the race track. That means he is shaking hands with everybody he knows; and that, in turn, means he is nearly everybody he meets. Ed Roberts is still reticent about what he wants to run for, according to the state chairman. Reno politicians profess not to know what Charles Wharton is up to in his second campaigning.

Location books in triplicate are ready at The Bonanza office.

CATTLE COMPANY RECEIVER NAMED

San Francisco Bank Demands Receivership in Case of Big Nevada Company.

CARSON CITY, July 30.—W. T. Smith, of Elko, was yesterday appointed receiver of the Union Land & Cattle company by Judge E. S. Farrington of the United States district court, and immediately qualified by filing his oath and the required surety bond of $75,000 in the clerk's office.

The appointment of the receiver was made on the application of the First National bank of San Francisco, which, in its bill of complaint, alleges that the Union Land & Cattle company owes the bank the sum of $100,000 together with interest at the rate of 5 per cent on $100,000.00 from July 1, 1920; on $100,000.00 from July 15, 1920; on $100,000.00 from July 15, 1920; and on $100,000.00 from July 22, 1920. The bank holds and owns four promissory notes, each for $100,000.00, and executed "in order of ourselves," and signed by W. H. Moffatt as president and H. G. Humphrey as secretary of the company. Each note was for the period of six months. Their dates of issuance were January 9, 15, 19 and 22nd of this year. All were endorsed in the name of the corporation and delivered to the First National bank of San Francisco.

The bill of complaint sets out further that in addition to the said indebtedness owing to the complaint herein by the defendant, the defendant is also indebted to various and sundry creditors on mortgage bonds, promissory notes, drafts, accounts, contracts and other obligations. The respective creditors being numerous and widely scattered, the obligations of the defendant to other creditors aggregating approximately the sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000).

It is said that the holdings of the company include ranches and lands in Nevada of the extent of about 200,000 acres. All or a large part of the real property is covered by mortgage to secure the issue of first mortgage bonds in the sum of $1,200,000, of which amount $1,000,000 is still outstanding at 6 per cent interest. The notes of maturity of these bonds run from 1917 to 1936. Cole L. Harwood and O. H. Cushing signed the bill of complaint as solicitors for the bank.

There was also filed in the office of the clerk of the United States district court yesterday a copy of resolutions adopted under the date of July 28 by the board of directors of the Union Land & Cattle company. The gist of the resolutions is that the company has been advised that the suit is about to be instituted by the bank, and that considering the present financial condition of the company, it is deemed best for the interest of the company, its stockholders and all creditors to have a receiver appointed; that the company file its appearance and consent to appointment of a receiver, and that the president be empowered and directed to employ an attorney to appear and consent to the receiver's appointment.

The consent was filed with the clerk by A. M. Salisbury, the attorney for the company, and the order designating Mr. Smith as the receiver was duly made by Judge Farrington.

W. T. Smith is the principal owner of the Elko water works and is the father-in-law of United States Senator C. B. Henderson.

AMUSEMENTS

Starting in one of the strongest roles in which he has appeared on the screen, John Barrymore will be seen in "The Test of Honor" at the Butler theatre today. There are few more popular actors than Mr. Barrymore, who is equally well known as a comedian and a dramatic player.

In his latest starring vehicle, Mr. Barrymore is seen as Martin Wingrave, a young Virginian, who loves a married woman. When her jealous husband interferes, there is a fight in which the husband is knocked down. The man subsequently dies, not as a result of the battle, but because of his weak heart. Wingrave is accused of murder, and the treacherous widow openly accuses Wingrave, who is convicted and sent to prison for seven years. How Wingrave is finally exonerated and finds happiness in the love of a pure girl is shown in a series of thrilling scenes that afford Mr. Barrymore abundant opportunities for the display of his genius. Constance Binney and Marena Mahon have the leading roles, and the cast generally is the best procurable.

Don't forget the double program Tuesday, Friday and Saturday. "The Passion Play" and also a (feature) feature will be screened.

EVEN MINISTERS CAN'T TELL THE TRUTH

Rev. H. R. Sanborn has returned from a trip through the eastern part of the state in the interests of the vocational training of about a dozen young Nevadans. While away Mr. Sanborn heard a good deal of politics discussed, and he says that the preponderance of opinion in the eastern part of Nevada is in favor of the democratic party, and from the talk that he has heard he believes the democratic ticket will sweep the state with bigger majorities than they have had, before.
